Food Recall: North America Nov. 22-28

By: Dr. Uyen Nguyen
Edited by: Michael Diamond

Date : November 30, 2015

Food Recalls - North America

November 22-28, 2015 – The following items were (voluntarily) recalled in Canada and the US:

Canada:

1. Allergen: undeclared wheat in Merilin brand Black pepper powder. Distributed in Newfoundland and Labrador, Nova Scotia, Ontario, and Quebec.
2. Allergen: undeclared almond in Gelato Fresco brand Toasted Hazelnut Dairy Ice. Distributed in Nova Scotia and Ontario.
3. Microbiological: potential *Listeria monocytogenes in Isle of Kintyre and Inverloch cheeses imported from Scotland. Distributed in Alberta, Newfoundland and Labrador, Ontario, Possibly National, Quebec, and Saskatchewan.

United States of America:

1. Allergen: undeclared cashew and almond in Raley's Frozen Sweet Pumpkin Ravioli.
2. High amounts of Vitamin D3 (Cholecalciferol) in Glades Drugs Compounded Multivitamins. Distributed Nationwide.
3. Microbiological: potential *Salmonella in one lot of Blue Buffalo Company Cub Size Wilderness Wild Chews Bones. Distributed in California, Kansas, Michigan, Minnesota, Montana, Nevada, Oregon, Utah, and Washington.
4. Allergen: undeclared almond and cashew in Bertagni fresh Sweet Butternut Squash Ravioli and Meijer frozen Butternut Squash Ravioli. Meijer product was distributed in Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Ohio, and Wisconsin.
5. Microbiological: potential *coli*0157:H7 in various Taylor Farms Pacific, Inc. Celery Products. Distributed in Alaska, Arizona, California, Colorado, Georgia, Hawaii, Idaho, Illinois, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, New Mexico, North Dakota, Oregon, South Dakota, Utah, Washington, Wyoming,

References:

http://www.inspection.gc.ca/about-the-cfia/newsroom/food-recall-warnings/eng/1299076382077/1299076493846

http://www.fda.gov/Safety/Recalls/